Subject: Follow-up on U.S.-India Higher Education Partnerships and Collaboration

Dear Dr M Srinivas,

Thank you for attending our strategic discussion on "U.S.-India Higher Education Partnerships and Collaboration" during our University of Denver (DU) delegation visit in India. We missed those who could not attend and hope we can connect soon. With a focus on the growing importance of the U.S.-India relationship, the discussion was a unique opportunity to bring together diverse leadership voices from across higher education, non-profit and governmental communities for high level networking and critical conversations on advancing partnership and collaboration across the higher education sector.

Please take this short survey which asks key questions as we consider future collaborations.

I also would like to take the opportunity to mention that DU's Office of Internationalization, with support from the U.S. Consulate General in Mumbai (U.S. Department of State) and in partnership with Rajika Bhandari Advisors, has launched a new project aimed at furthering higher education partnerships between U.S. and Indian institutions. Learn more here.

DU is building a robust online course, and we are seeking facilitators from India who are interested in developing course modules on various topical areas for the purpose of furthering higher education partnerships between U.S. and Indian institutions. The short survey mentioned above will also capture your interest in developing online modules for this project.

If you have any questions, please reach out to ihouse@du.edu

Thank you and we look forward to connecting with you.

Sincerely,

Uttiy Raychaudhuri, Ph.D.

Vice Provost for Internationalization
