Certificate Confirming Proprietary Nature of Items

Dear Sirs,

We hereby declare and certify that the consumables required for the sterilizers and other allied devices of Tecno-Gaz, Italy, offered by M/s Vishal Distributors, are specifically designed and dedicated consumable items manufactured by us for use with our equipment.

We further declare that in the absence of authentic, research-based technical data and validation, consumables manufactured by any other manufacturer cannot be considered compatible with the existing systems and equipment of Tecno-Gaz, Italy.

The consumables offered are supplied exclusively for our range of sterilizers and other allied devices under the Tecno-Gaz, Italy make. These consumables are specifically designed and validated for use with the aforesaid equipment to ensure proper compatibility, safety, performance, and functionality. They are not intended or approved for use with any other equipment or system unless supported by authentic research-based technical data and appropriate validation.

It is also hereby declared that the standard warranty and/or CMC coverage of the main equipment may become null and void in the event that any spare parts, consumables, accessories or other components not recommended, approved or authorized by us are used or attempted to be used with the equipment. Such unauthorized use may adversely affect the safety, performance, reliability and functionality of the equipment and may also have implications with respect to applicable CE requirements, norms and regulatory provisions.

This certificate is being issued for submission before the concerned authority for the purpose of confirming the authenticity, proprietary nature, dedicated application and compatibility of the consumables offered for the aforesaid equipment.

For further clarity and reference, please refer to the list of consumables provided along with the relevant bid documents.
